

Secop 12/24Vdcdc 110/240Vac control unit (not purchasable individually)

Reference: R101097.K+

Secop Control Unit 12/24Vdcdc 110/240Vac. Price only in combination with the refrigerator. Not available for individual purchase.

This price applies exclusively to the purchase of the product with Reference Code R101097.K+, when the control unit is purchased together with the refrigerator on which it will be installed. The dual-purpose control unit for nautical refrigeration units represents the ideal technological innovation for optimizing the performance of the cooling system on board vessels.

Designed with the utmost attention to the specific needs of the nautical sector, this control unit guarantees precise control of the cooling water temperature, maximizing energy efficiency and reducing consumption.

Looking for a nautical air conditioner? HERE you can find the area dedicated to Vitrifrigo marine air conditioners and other specialized brands.

Images and technical data are not binding.

The dual-mode control unit for marine refrigeration units represents the ideal technological innovation for optimizing the performance of cooling systems onboard vessels. Designed with the utmost attention to the specific needs of the marine industry, this control unit ensures precise control of cooling water temperature, maximizing energy efficiency and reducing consumption.

Images and technical data are not binding.